If our Customer Assistance Department is unable to resolve your issue to your satisfaction, we offer a dispute resolution program administered by the National Center for Dispute Settlement (NCDS) (“the Program”). The purpose of the Program is to resolve disputes in an informal setting before an impartial arbitrator. The Program is free of charge to you (although you must bear the cost of any expert witness or attorney you elect to employ). You are required to complete the Program before exercising rights or seeking remedies under the federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301 et seq. (“the Act”). If you choose to seek remedies that are not created by the Act, you are not required to use the Program before pursuing such remedies – although the Program is still available to you to resolve the dispute. When utilizing the Program, you will need to provide (a) the vehicle identification number of your vehicle, (b) the identity of your selling and servicing dealerships, (c) the mileage on your vehicle at relevant times, (d) the date and nature of any relevant repairs, (e) legible copies of repair orders and other relevant documents, (f) a summary of the unresolved issue and the requested action, and (g) your contact information. In most cases, the dispute resolution process under the Program will be completed within forty (40) days of your submission of your request and will consist of steps such as an initial eligibility determination, an opportunity for you and us to submit information in writing relating to your claim, an oral hearing, and a decision from the arbitrator. A decision will be binding on you only if you choose to accept it. You may submit a request to NCDS by telephone at their toll-free number: 1-888-300-6237 or in writing at 12400 Coit Road, Suite 1230, Dallas Texas 75251. You may obtain additional information regarding the Program at www.ncdsusa.org. In the event that the NCDS does not exist or no longer handles disputes for us at the time that you seek to submit a request, you may email our Customer Assistance Department at SETCR@setoyota.com to obtain current information about our dispute resolution programs.
